How to contact Alabama EARS

If you have a question about domestic rabbit care and behavior, email us at info@AlabamaEARS.org and well email you information and helpful websites. If you would rather phone, you may call us and leave your name, address and a short message with your bunny care question. We'll mail you a packet of care information tailored to your question and other information that we think might be helpful. Our mailing address is Alabama EARS, PO Box 130218, Birmingham, AL 35213

See the Bunnies play! NEW on our Website

New to our website this month is the addition of short (20 seconds or less) movie clips of our foster buns. See Sammy eat a banana piece, Napkin eat a snack while Finny explores in the background, and Morgan toss her toys with joyful lop-eared talent. We'll keep adding clips as the bunnies until (we hope) all the foster buns are up there. Seeing the bunnies on movie clips over the web is the next best thing to seeing them in person!

Yard Sales

We'd like to thank our members who have organized yard sales for EARS this year. If you are interested in coordinating a yard sale for EARS please let us know. Our volunteers collect treasure for the sales year 'round but we need new volunteers to coordinate or host a sale. If you have gently used items to donate for our future garage sales, email us at info@AlabamaEARS.org or call us on our Hopline at (205) 942- 9589 and leave a message. Because EARS is a registered 501 C (3) organization, the items you donate are tax-deductible.

Love a Foster Bun Days

Want to get involved with EARS but they aren't sure where to start? Come to a "Love a Foster Bun Day." On the last Saturday of each month volunteers meet at our main foster home for two hours to groom bunnies, and help give the fosters some TLC. This is a very low-key event and a great opportunity to spend quality time with a bun who could use a little extra attention. Oh, and it's also fun to share bunny stories and hear solutions to those nagging questions like "what can I do with all that bunny poo," and "how can I stop my bun from chewing electrical cords."

Membership Enrollment and Volunteer Form The Rabbit's Tale Fall 2005

Please help us reach our goal of 10 new or renewing memberships this Fall. EARS membership for the rest of 2005 is only $5. You might even have that in the couch cushions! If you'd like to join for 2006 as well, add an additional $10 to make it an even $15. We keep our membership fees low but when enough people join or renew the money adds up and the bunnies win. Membership donations are tax-deductible.

Volunteer Opportunities

View our volunteer opportunities on our website under the 'How to Help' section
I'd like to volunteer for EARS and:

- Help at educational events
- Work with the bunnies in the shelters
- Organize a yard sale
- Post Fliers at animal clinics, libraries, supermarkets, drug stores, etc.
- Attend Hay Day gatherings to fill boxes with fresh hay for sale. (The profits go towards the cost of spay and neuter of foster buns)
- Donate hand made crafts for the bunny boutique
- Be a foster mom or dad for an abused or neglected rabbit
- Save my spare change to help pay foster bunny expenses (Fun Bun Money)
- Drive foster rabbits to and from vet appointments
- Make copies of House Rabbit Society educational materials
- Bunny sit for other EARS members or a foster home
- Have my bun sponsor a foster bun for a $20 donation
